

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I would like to express my heartfelt gratitude to Ms. Bibha Sthapit, Assistant Professor at IOE, Pulchowk Campus, for her invaluable guidance and encouragement throughout the duration of this project. Her insightful advice and constructive feedback were crucial in helping me navigate the technical challenges and complexities of the app development process.

I am deeply thankful for her dedication to fostering a productive learning environment and for being available to discuss various aspects of the project. Her expertise in software development and understanding of real-world applications provided me with valuable perspectives, encouraging me to think critically and implement effective solutions.

Additionally, I appreciate her support in promoting a thorough approach to research and development, which has been instrumental in enhancing my skills and knowledge. Her mentorship has been inspiring and motivating, making this project a meaningful learning experience.
